

SUMMER CAMP STAFF...A JOB WITH CHARACTER!

Staffing is great because it provides an opportunity to make new friends and hang out with old ones. Staffing isn't about hanging out with friends though. The most rewarding part is that the teaching young boy's lifelong skills and seeing them advance through Scouting with those Skills. ---- Matt Klomfas

I join staff because you look up to those staff members and think they are cool. You stay for a year or two for the fun and the few dollars. You stay longer when you realize all those older guys are gone and now you are the one the new guys look up to. ----- Danny Waltman

I joined because when I was a camper, the staff guys were the coolest people ever!-----Jim Patten

I joined because I was asked when a friend was in need, and saw the opportunity to broaden my leadership skills I was learning about in Venturing.---- Marah Alexander Woods

Being on Boxwell staff was awesome because of the absolutely amazing friends. I have never had a stronger, better group of people to surround myself with. Even now, decades later, the people I lived and breathed without there are still among my closest friends. Being on Boxwell staff was also awesome because of the adventure. There were so many things we got into, things we argued and debated, and things we experienced. I can't imagine a better way to grow up. Finally, being on Boxwell staff was awesome because it helped me find who I am. It is no exaggeration to say I wouldn't be doing what I do now if I had not served on Boxwell staff. -----Grady Eades

I really don't think I'd be the man I am today if not for my time at Boxwell Reservation.---- Robert Frazor

Because of Boxwell, I got to grow as a scouter and as a person. Being on staff lets me help the next generation of scouts to have the same amazing experience that I did!----- Scott Strohmeier

Working on staff helps everyone find a side of themselves that they never knew they had. It brings you into a massive family of brothers (and sisters) that look out for each other and create the greatest memories together. I always enjoy crossing onto Creighton lane and feeling at home once again. I highly recommend any guy or gal in the BSA to work Boxwell and have an experience that they could never get anywhere else.-----Emmie Donaldson

Being on staff is awesome because the opportunities for Scouts to really grow leadership skills. Where else in the world do teenagers get to run a business? Instruct life skills? Evaluate fellow employees? Supervise a staff? Run a Camp? When I sent my Scouts off to CIT they were boys, but they returned home young men!----- Meredith MaGuirk

I started working camp staff because my older brother did. I'm grateful that I did. The friends that I have made are fantastic. The experiences have been enjoyable. Everything from hard platform moving days to nights out have been memorable. I stayed on staff because of these friendships, as well as a love for the scouting movement and a desire to teach young men skills that have benefited my life----- Max Briscoe

You will learn and reinforce life skills on a Summer Camp staff. You often learn just enough to pass a requirement in Scouting Ranks, but when you are assigned to teach that skill you learn much more. My first year I taught Pioneering, Star Study, and Semaphore. Other staff I worked with and myself sat down and learned splices, knots, star constellations and signaling together during staff week.----Perry Bruce
